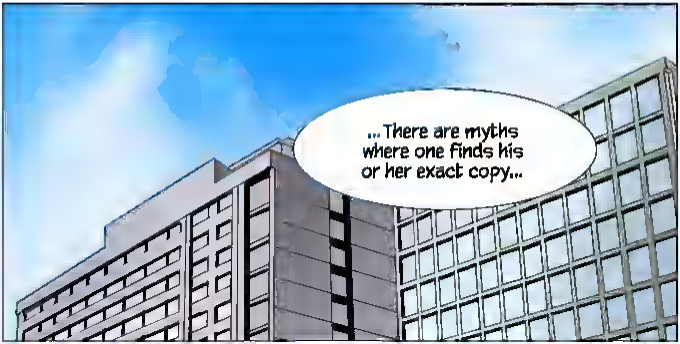
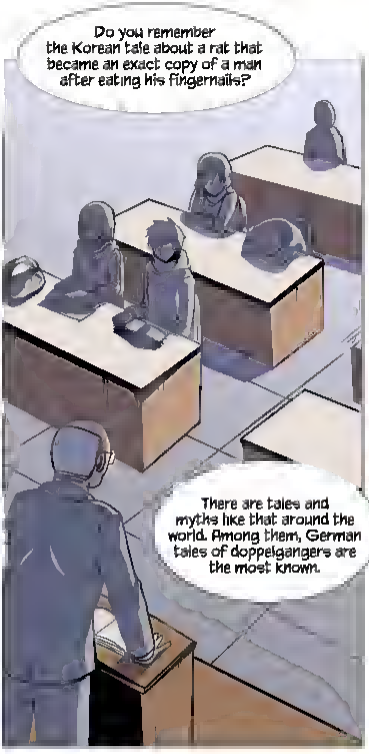
Story, Art by FantasyTurtle



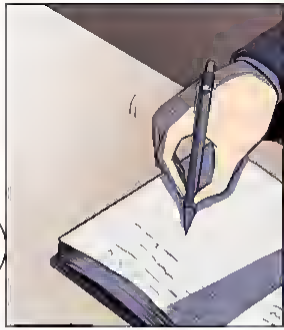


Do you remember the Korean tale about a rat that became an exact copy of a man after eating his fingernails?
There are tales and myths like that around the world. Among them, German tales of doppelgangers are the most known.

[Reincarnation]
is an even more common belief.
It's a popular among people and some even claim to be reincarnations themselves.

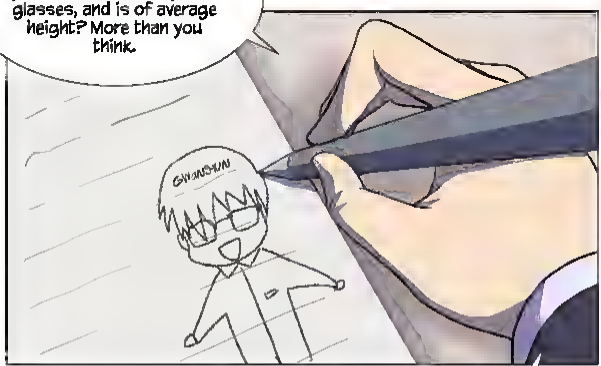
This idea just popped into my head...
About what?
DANGER
Reincarnation is also a popular subject for novels and movies.
An example would be "The Strange Case of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde"...

Remember how I told you that my friends and I saw a person who looks just like you?
Ah, that one. What about that?
According to you, there must be at least 100 clones of Gwang-jun.
Haha. I know what you mean. He looks so ordinary.



It's not surprising to find someone who looks like you if you both live in the same place with the same culture.

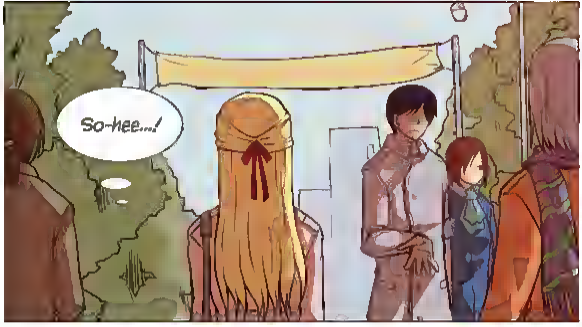
How many people do you think have messy hair, glasses, and is of average height? More than you think.



To foreigners, we all look the same.

There's no point making a fuss about it.
Tch, no fun at all...
I'm being realistic.

Jin-wook, do you have anything planned after school? Some freshmen want me to take them to a bar. They told me to bring you along.
Sorry, I have work.
Ku-uk, come with me this time will you? They're not as nice to me if you're not there...
Why don't they appreciate a handsome guy like me...



So-hee...!

Hey, I gotta go.
WHAT?
HEY! WAIT!

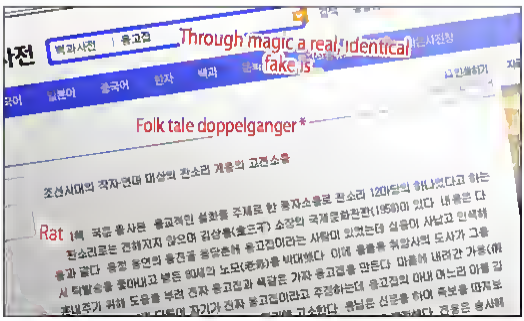
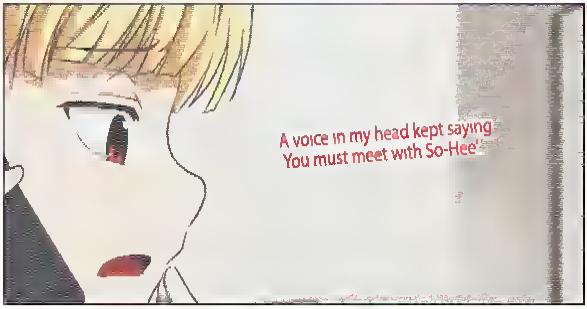
I think my aunt saw her doppelganger and died.
If you meet them, you die

T/N: This is the title of a folk story told via 'pansori' (singer + drummer) during the Joseon Dynasty. It has to do with a rich, spoiled, stubborn kid who a buddhist monk creates a fake of to balance the good with the bad. The fake gets the kid kicked out of the house and his sufferings thereafter made him contrite and turned him into a good person. Of interest to Jin-Wook is the fake created for balance that gets the kid kicked out





I heard doppelgangers really exist. Supposedly, if your eyes meet, you die.

Hehe, they just saw someone that looked liked them and overreacted, hehe.

Every person has two others that look like him.

I saw someone on the street that looked like me and our eyes met... am I going to die?

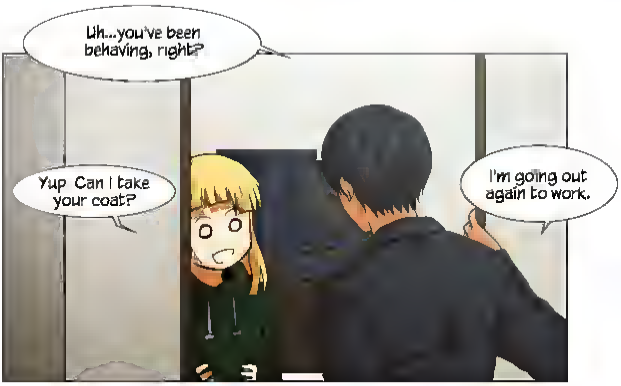
Not kidding, lol

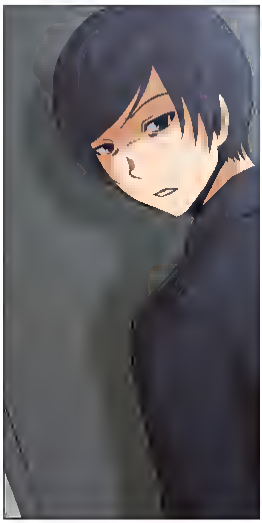
If you carelessly throw away your fingernails, a rat will eat them and turn into you.

If you meet someone that looks exactly like you, they'll take your ki and you die.

I read that in a manhwa!

What am I supposed to do?
I'm...
Welcome back, Mr. Jin-Wook.





I just came back to check up on you. Stay here and stay quiet until I get back.

A. FantasyTurtle-nim

You can kill the doppelganger at level 42 ^^. Go with a party. It'll be hard to solo. A small team composed of a tank, dps, and healer should be enough

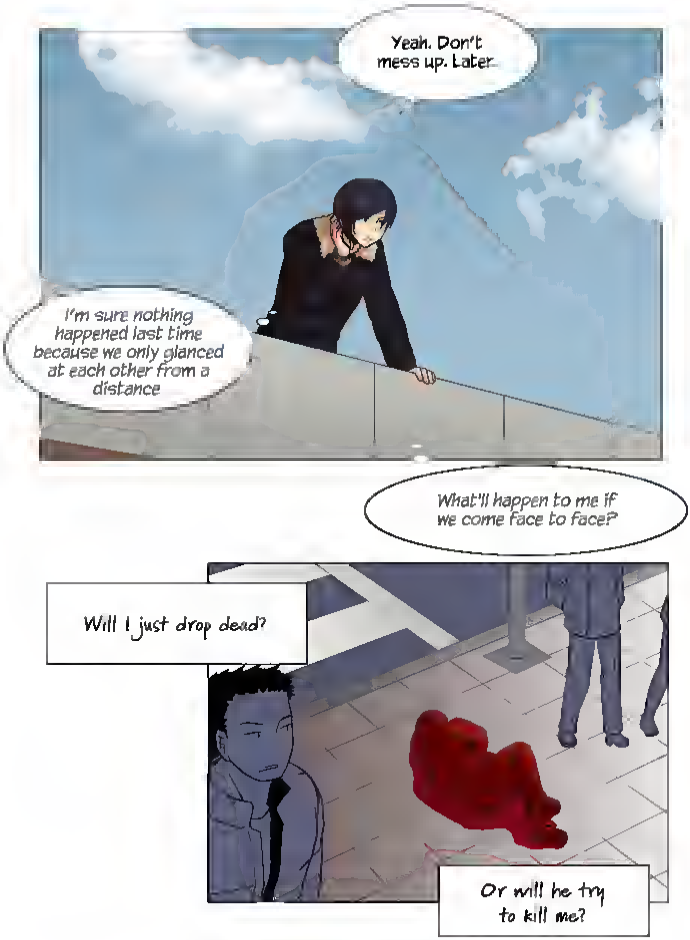
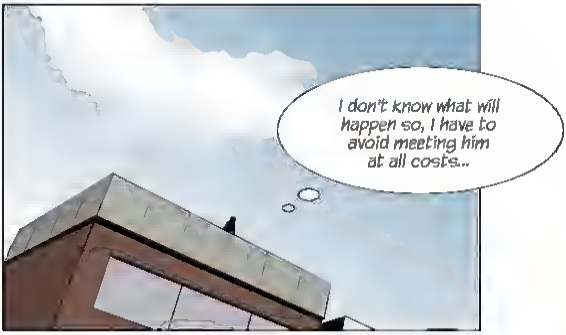
Hello?
Ah, Mr. Jin-Wook. I've reached the destination.
Yes, so I just have to walk around the area, right?
Yeah. I don't know what will happen when I meet my fake. That's why...
Okay! So all I have to do is watch him, right?



Yeah. Don't mess up. Later.
I'm sure nothing happened last time because we only glanced at each other from a distance
What'll happen to me if we come face to face?
Will I just drop dead?
Or will he try to kill me?



I don't know what will happen so, I have to avoid meeting him at all costs...

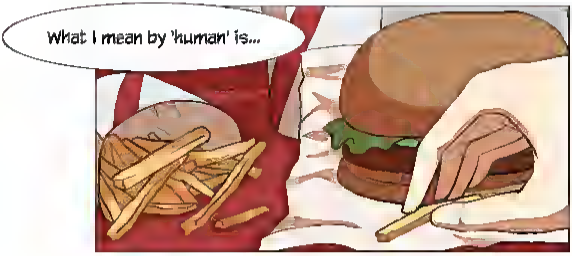
Do you get excited that easily? All you had to do was walk around the area.
That's not it! Walking down the street...

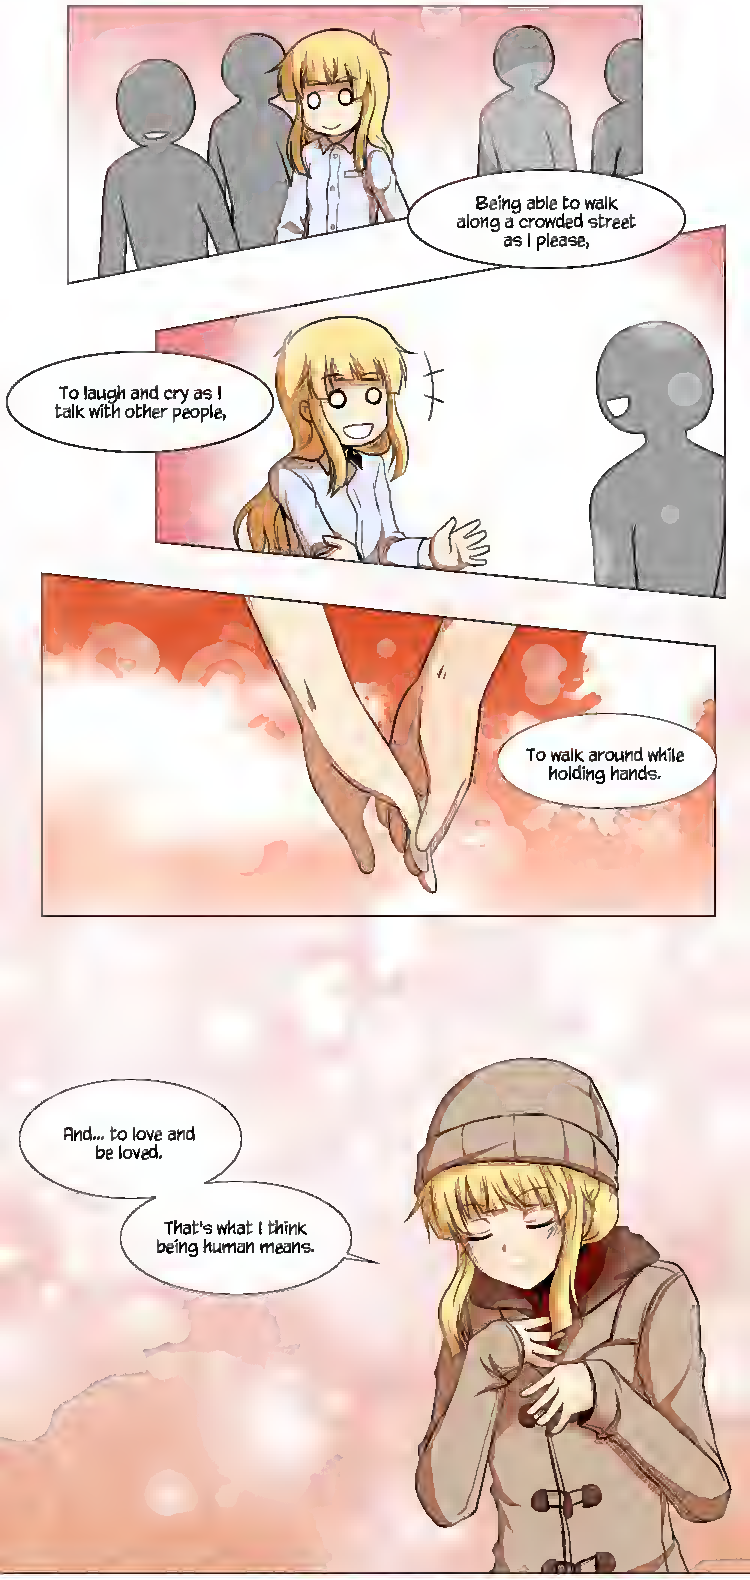
It was like a dream. My dream of being human. -

What are you talking about? Are you saying you want to kill So-Hee and become human?

No, of course not! Yes, I'm definitely not human, but that's not what I meant...



What I mean by 'human' is...



Being able to walk along a crowded street as I please,
To laugh and cry as I talk with other people,
To walk around while holding hands.

That's what I think being human means.

That's kind of embarrassing, isn't it?
